YOU CANNOT BLAME A STUDENT FOR DREADING

That long hike to town tomorrow after Sunday dinner. It breaks up the whole evening—doesn't it? Why not do as many other students have—just come over to the "caf"—it's right on the campus—you won't have to wait on your order—the food will be wholesome and appetizing and Jeeminy! Christmas—the price. Look these menus over—Pick the one that suits you and when that hungry feeling sneaks on you tomorrow evening, come right on over and join the gang.

understand some reign of terror at various points and times. But, on the whole, their strength is estimated as too small to upset the present order of things. American authorities here are inclined to believe that the left wing formation merely separates the sheep from the goats and that the creation of a party favoring force and terror is not a new thing. The persons who now cut their lot with Moscow are the ones who have always preached terror and practiced it when they had a chance.

The German worker has reached the point where things go a little more smoothly for him than for the last few years. Unemployment has decreased slightly since the first of September. The German workers as a whole want sanity and sound conditions rather than the doubtful experiment of Moscow.
